

International Summer Training Camp 18th August – 23rd August 2018

West Country Swords invites you to join us for our Summer Training Camp at Malvern St James School in Malvern, Worcestershire. This camp is aimed at aspirational fencers from all ages who wish to develop their skills in Fencing. Back attending this year are international fencers from multiple clubs in Germany as well ex German National Coach, Klaus Kotzmann and German National Foil Team Fencer, Marius Braun.

Professional fencing coaches Daniel Robinson and James Harris will be managing the camp and training programme; and he will also be supported by other professional coaches. All equipment will be supplied, but should you have your own equipment please bring it along. Accommodation will be at Malvern St James, there will be male and female chaperones on site at all times and all meals will take place at the school.

Participating athletes will enjoy a programme of sparring, individual and group lessons, fitness, footwork, video analysis and athlete lifestyle management. All training will take place on the Malvern St James campus; and there will be options for further activities in the evenings.

The cost of our full residential camp will be £435.00 per person; this will cover meals, accommodation, coaching, equipment and facility charges. Alternatively, for those in the locality there is a non-residential option starting from £325.00 per person which covers coaching, equipment and facility charges; lunch will also be included. We also offer day rate charges, for more information please visit our website.

To secure a place on the camp please sign up via this link: <http://www.westcountryswords.co.uk/camps.html>

We look forward to meeting and coaching you all!
